

Change Proposal – F40/01 (Page 1 of 2)	CP No: 972 Version: 1.0
Title (mandatory by originator) Review of BSCP71
Description of Change (mandatory by originator) Through operational experience it has become clear that the timescales referred to in BSCP71 are inaccurate. The timescales currently indicated in the BSCP need to be reviewed in light of operational practices. Further adjustments are required to some of the forms and interface timetables.
Proposed Solution(s) (mandatory by originator) Parties can submit forms to ECVAAs on days other than just Working Days, this needs to be reflected in the BSCP. The BSCP also states the Effective to Date cannot be less than 1 calendar day after the receipt of the termination request by ECVAAs and also that the counterparties are notified 1 day before the termination. However, in reality it seems that authorisations can have the same Effective to date as the day that they are submitted and therefore counterparties would not be notified a day before the termination. BSCP71 indicates that any of the counterparties to an ECVNA/MVRNA authorisation can terminate the authorisation whereas BSCP38 suggests that you have to be a Party to terminate an authorisation.
Justification for Change (mandatory by originator) To clarify the processes Parties and Party agents will need to undertake. The way the processes are currently set out is inaccurate and has caused a great deal of confusion.
